Award-Winning Documentary About Grief And Healing “Space Between Breaths” To Have Boston Area Premiere At Arlington’s Regent Theatre Thursday August 21

Exclusive Screening Event To Feature Live Performance By Two-Time Grammy Nominated Recording Artist Cindy Bullens, Composer of the Film’s Score

Arlington, MA SPACE BETWEEN BREATHS—What Loss Can Teach Us About A Life Fully Lived, will have its debut New England screening on Thursday, August 21, 2008 at 7:00pm at The Regent Theatre in Arlington, Massachusetts. The answers to some of life’s most important questions are explored in this powerful, uplifting film, which looks at the potential in grief and the ways it can become a motivational, transformational force in our lives by examining the questions: Who are we? What really matters? Is it possible to find true happiness after a great loss?

Featuring conversations with parents who have lost a child, including those whose loved ones died at the Columbine massacre, during the 9-11 terrorist attacks, and a mother whose son was one of the first American soldiers to die in Iraq, SPACE BETWEEN BREATHS, offers an inspired and healing perspective on loss which will transform the way you live and love.

Two-time Grammy nominated recording artist Cindy Bullens, who wrote the score for the documentary, will perform live prior to the screening.

Earlier this year, SPACE BETWEEN BREATHS was named Best Documentary at the Sweet Auburn International Film Festival—an integral part of SpringFest, an annual celebration in Atlanta's Sweet Auburn Historic District that ran from May 7-11, 2008.

SPACE BETWEEN BREATHS is produced by Luther and Rosemary Smith; written and directed by Rosemary Smith; film editor, Richard Fong Zhu; cinematographers, Chip and Anne Swetnam; original score by Cindy Bullens.

SPACE BETWEEN BREATHS will be shown at the historic Regent Theatre, 7 Medford Street, Arlington, MA at 7:00pm on Thursday, August 21, 2008. General admission tickets are $10. The Regent is handicap and MBTA accessible with free parking in the municipal lot across the street. For tickets and information call (781) 646-4849 or visit www.regenttheatre.com.
